

I. DISCLOSURE:

The disclosure in the specification supports the new claims 76-88. New claims 76-79 are described and enabled in the original patent specification. By way of example, claim 76 is disclosed at least at column 4, lines 27-30; claim 77 is disclosed at least at column 6, lines 31-37 and Figure 6; and claims 78-79 are disclosed at least at column 5, lines 1-3. Nothing indicates an intent not to claim the subject matter of these added claims 76-79.

New claims 80-88 are described and enabled in the original patent specification. By way of example, claim 80 is disclosed at least at claim 1 as originally filed, column 4, lines 27-30, column 5, lines 4-8 and column 10, lines 57-63; claims 81-82 are disclosed at least at column 10, lines 57-63; claim 83 is disclosed at least at claim 1 as originally filed and column 5, lines 4-8; claim 84 is disclosed at least at column 5, lines 8-10; claim 85 is disclosed at least at column 7, lines 38-41; claims 86-88 correspond to claims 77-79 and are supported by at least the same disclosure as cited above. Nothing indicates an intent not to claim the subject matter of these added claims 80-88.

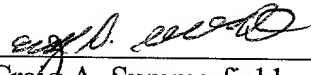

II. RECAPTURE:

The amendments above, in particular new claims 76-88, do not recapture earlier surrendered subject matter. These new claims are being first presented in this reissue application.

Applicants respectfully submit that all of the pending claims, 1-88, are in condition for allowance and seeks early allowance thereof. If for any reason, the Reissue Declaration is unacceptable or the Examiner is unable to allow the reissue application but believes that an interview would be helpful to resolve any issues, he is respectfully requested to call the undersigned at (312) 321-4726.
